VETERANS COMMUNITY PROJECT
OPENS PHASE 2 OF ITS TINY HOUSE
COMMUNITY FOR HOMELESS VETERANS

Organization welcomes second round of 13 residents to Veterans Village

WHO: Veterans Community Project, a Kansas City non-profit 501(c)(3) organization founded by Veterans for Veterans, is holding a Move-in Ceremony and ribbon cutting for the second group of homeless Veterans to take up residence in 13 recently constructed homes in Veterans Village, a Kansas City community of transitional tiny houses.

WHAT: The Move-in Ceremony will include remarks from co-founder and CEO Chris Stout, recently named one of this year's Top 10 CNN Heroes finalists, and a formal ribbon cutting ceremony. In addition to providing transitional housing, Veterans Community Project also provides wraparound social services to address the underlying cause of Veteran homelessness.

Following the Move-in Ceremony on November 8, a total of 26 transitional homes will be open to Veterans and their families. The specialized community will one day include 49 transitional homes, each about the size of a studio apartment. Residents are provided with food and necessities and a sense of privacy, security and stability. A Community Center will be also be built in the village to provide classes and counseling to help Veterans readjust to their lives and cope with trauma.
